

A Pair of Louis XVI Ormolu and Wedgwood Jasperware Candelabra

Circa: 18th century

18th century

Porcelain, Ormolu gilded Bronze

53 x 25 cm (20 ⁷/₈ x 9 ⁷/₈ inches)

Each baluster-form vase decorated with a frieze representing Apollo with his lyre and surrounded by the nine muses with their symbolic attributes, with a pair of snake handles to the shoulders, the neck issuing two scrolled candle arms and a central spiral-twist-stem candle arm, with beaded socle and square base with palmettes, resting on a further square base and bun feet, each vase inscribed WEDGWOOD under the base.

Provenance: Ségoura Collection, Christies New York, 19Th of October 2006